Mrs. Jas. E. Ellison and children returned Wednesday evening from a most enjoyable visit to her old home in Utah.

A detailed report of the funeral of the late Mrs. Gard will be published next week.

Mrs. C. W. Card Dies Suddenly Was Very Highly Respected

Half past twelve Monday morning the spirit of a noble woman, Mrs. C. W. Card, passed from this sphere to its eternal reward, and with the morning came a pall of sorrow and lamentation throughout the whole community. The end came peacefully in the presence of the family. Heart trouble probably hastened by a severe fall she sustained about two weeks ago, was the cause of her death.

The deceased was in her fifty-fourth year, and always seemed strong and healthy. Lately, however, she had complained of a pain in the region of the heart and a general lowering of vitality. She was naturally of an active and energetic disposition, and could not be persuaded to rest from the routine at the hotel. Mrs. Card was one of Raymond's finest women. She was widely known, both locally and in the whole south. Among the many who will miss her are the commercial boys who looked upon her with almost maternal affection. She was always full of kind and benevolent spirit, cheerful and optimistic. A more faithful wife and mother could not be found than she.

The deceased was also active in a church capacity, laboring for many years in the Relief Society of the first ward. Her deeds of charity will never be forgotten. She was president of the Women's Institute, being elected last month. She was a faithful member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day saints, and was firm and steadfast in her faith in the gospel of Christ. The greatest desire of her heart was that her family would live clean Christian lives and we believe that they show the results of her teaching.

Mrs. Card leaves a husband, four sons and two daughters, and several brothers and sisters, to mourn her loss. To the family the sympathy of the entire community goes out in abundance, and may they find consolation in the gospel of the Risen Lord which enables men to say with apostles of old: "O grave where is thy victory, O death where is thy sting."

Newsy Items of Local and General Interest

O. F. Urenback, secretary of Raymond's Greatest Fair, was a visitor to Magrath Sunday.

Miss Lovina Anderson delighted to entertain a party of her friends Sunday evening. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John F. Anderson, recently of Guelph.

Elders Sykes and Passey, of Stirling, were the speakers at the first ward chapel last Sunday. They were here as home missionaries.

Bathing in Ellison Lake and the factory lake is the chief recreation these days. These popular resorts are full of pleasure seekers every afternoon and evening, and it is a pity that a real summer resort cannot be located at one of them.

Misses Laura Kirlie, Myrtle Evans and Margaret Watson, and Messrs S. M. Turner and W. C. Koenig, of Magrath, were visitors to the city last Sunday, the guests of Miss Hattie Dudley.

J. R. Revill, of Lethbridge, was a business visitor here for a few days last week. He is now connected with the Ellison Milling company.

A large gang of men left this week for Lonely Valley, where they will put up hay for the sugar company. They expect to be on the job about a month.

The annual Utah-Idaho excursion to Canada will leave Salt Lake City for the north August

7th. Quite a number of Raymond people are expecting relatives and friends. Why not arrange some sort of a civic reception for the visitors? This is the duty of the Board of Trade, but alas—

Miss Laura Redd returned last week from her visit to Utah. Miss Ferne Redd is thoroughly enjoying her work at the University Summer School, South Edmonton.

The new service at the Alta is very popular, and good houses are the order every night. The management has some fine features in store for the future. The $5 will be divided tomorrow night.

The annual M. I. A. convention will be held in Raymond August 1 and 2, and it is earnestly requested that all officers throughout the stake will attend the meetings, as matters of vital importance to the work will be discussed. It is almost certain that there will be visitors from the general board, S. T. Lake, but just who is coming is not yet known.

A big celebration is being held today at Tyrell's Lake. Mr. H. Orlund L. B., of Lethbridge, is the orator of the day. A splendid program of sports will be carried out.

The quarterly conference of the Taylor stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day saints will convene in the first ward chapel at 10 a.m. Sunday, August 1st. Sessions will be held using Saturday and Sunday.

Lest We Forget.

Today we honor the pioneers of Utah, which is right and proper. But in our rejoicing, let us not forget that Alberta also had pioneers and they suffered for those that were to follow. They, too, are deserving of our highest respect and honor. They were men and women of sterling character, and it is not at all improbable that future generations will honor them as we today are honoring the pioneers of '47.

We hope this will be the case at any rate, and that Shakespeare's grim philosophy will not hold true when he says in one drama, "The evil that men do lives after them, but the good is oft interred with their bones."

The first company of pioneers arrived at Lee's Creek, near what is now Cardston, in 1888. They came from Logan, Utah, and were led by Charles Ora Card, who with his estimable wife, "Aunt" Zina, endured with their associates equally as great hardships and privations as the colonizers of any land. But they stayed with the country, and layed the foundations of many flourishing towns.

Raymond was founded by good, sound, substantial business men. They were men of vision, and invested heavily in Alberta. The settlement enjoyed a most rapid growth, and prosperity greeted the settlers on every hand. It was then that Southern Alberta produced the crops that were the envy of the whole American continent.

Most of the old-timers are still in the country. They braved the dry years, and today most of them are comfortably fixed. They have faith in Alberta, and are attached to the prairies of the last, great West. Many who have moved to other parts of the country have returned glad to "get back home." Stay with Southern Alberta, and if you get a chance and have the money to invest, buy some land. It is better than oil stock.

Good morning! Have you hoisted that flag?

Welcome, visitors, to our city. We hope you have a pleasant time at the celebration.

We hope the Council will no longer hesitate in having the sidewalk on Broadway repaired. It is urgently needed as the condition of the walk is a disgrace to a town the size and importance of Raymond. The municipality has a staff of paid servants, and we know of nothing that needs their immediate attention more than the sidewalk in question. Procrastination is a dangerous rule to follow.

for the Waterbury Lakes. They met a party of young people at Waterbury, they proceeded to the mountains.

Large tract of good valley farming land just thrown open for free settlement in Oregon. Over 200, 000 acres in all. Good climate, rich soil, and does not require irrigation to the finest crops, grain, fruit and garden truck. For large map, full instructions and information, and a plat of several sections of exceptionally good lands, send $3.40 to John Keefe, Oregon City, Oregon. Three cents a U.S. surveyor and landman. An opportunity to get good fertile free homestead near town and market.

That the Raymond missionaries are making good in the field is well demonstrated in the latest report conferred on Elder Wm.
Jelmin. He has been called to be president of the American mission to the presidency of the Presbytery and conference, with honorary membership in the Presbytery. This is a most responsible post, and his attention is the result of his advances in the field. He has been in the foreign mission service for fifteen months, and is optimistic regarding the future success of the mission work to the far land continent.

Monica Bennett, of the Raymond Mercantile company, and her family, returned home Monday from the Western Lakes.

James R. Ellison, manager of the Knight-Siegel company, was visiting to Great Falls, Montana, Wednesday. He met his wife there en route from Utah.

Wm. Blair and Co., the Rexall dealer, has introduced a unique feature in offering a free ticket to the Alta theatre with every drug or stationery purchase of 25 cents or over, good every night except Saturday.

Geo. H. Budd was a Tater victor this week.
Dance in the Opera House tonight, Friday.

O. H. Snow is ill at his residence suffering from an attack on typhoid fever. We trust that he will soon be around again.

As we go to press we learn that Pres. Joseph F. Smith is expected to be present at conference.

There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the part Rondo Dahl played in the recent house breaking case. He was in no way convicted of burglary, but simply of being an accessory to the affair.

John Hyde and his family are leaving this week for Kalispell, Montana, where they will reside in the future. He has rented his shop here.

A splendid sample of fall wheat was brought into The Leader office this week grown on the farm of Bisby and Brown, nine miles south of town. The wheat was grown on fall plowing and measured four feet in height. They expect to be cutting in three weeks.
